

Mechanical engineer by qualification but worked most of his career in environment, sustainability and climate change for international organisations, governments and consultancies. Moved to England April 2021