

Practical Science Workshop

Meeting Chichester College October 2023

In October the group took on the challenge of assaying aspirin by titration in the chemistry laboratories of Chichester College under the watchful eye of Gill Yates the Chemistry teacher. The experiment was devised by Margaret Russell for the Open University chemistry course.

